Six years later, October 29, 1796, Leonard sold land on Otter Creek to Henry Stephenson Brown and John Brown, sons of Caleb Brown.

At the estate sale of Benjamin Harris of Madison Co., Ky., recorded December 5, 1797, Leonard Dozier purchased an old piece of plow, one bed, other furniture and one red cow.

Generation 2

2. RICHARD<sup>2</sup> DOZIER (Leonard<sup>1</sup>) was born on 09 Feb 1791 in Madison Co., Ky.. He died on 28 Oct 1879 in Estill Co., Ky.. He married Margaret Dozier, daughter of James Dozier and Mary Randall, on 28 Dec 1818 in Lewis Co., Ky.. She was born in 1795 in Nelson Co., Ky.. She died on 04 Feb 1872 in Estill Co., Ky..

Notes for Richard Dozier:

Richard married his first cousin, Margaret, daughter of his uncle James who settled in Lewis County.

Richard enlisted in Col. South's Mounted Kentucky Volunteers in 9/18/1812 and served until 10/7/1813 as a private. What action he encountered in the War of 1812 is not known.

Richard is listed in the 1830, 1840, 1850 and 1860 Censuses for Madison Co. In 1830, he has three sons, two daughters and three young female slaves in the household.

In 1850 (Dist. # 2, Image 62), he is listed as a farmer with $1,500 in real estate. His is 57 and Margaret is 55. Children are Mary Ann, 28, Rebecca, 24, Bradford (a farmer), 23, James, 22, Fortunatus, 19, Alfred, 16, and Thomas 11. The family is listed near Gentry and Parks families who lived on Otter Creek.

(In 1849, Richard Dozier was a witness the estate inventory of Merrill Parke.)

Richard is listed on the 1860 Census as a farmer with real estate valued at $1,500 and personal property worth $1,950. His wife, Margaret, is listed as a native of Nelson Co., Ky. Richard's listing is adjacent to that of Susannah Parks, apparently the widow of Merrill Parks. The next page lists son, William Parks and his wife, Mary Crews. This suggests that Richard lived in the Red House Road, Otter Creek area.

Richard is listed in the 1870 Census in the Crooked Creek Precinct of Estill Co., Ky., as 79 years old. Also listed in the household are his wife, Margaret, 76, Rebecca, 30, and Thomas, 20, who is described as a "cripple." Richard's real estate is valued at $1,400 and his personal property at $700.

The following notes were taken from a Dozier book compiled by Earl Dozier of Austin, Texas ca 1964.

"Susan Moberly Dozier died sometime before the memory of my grandfather, Greenup Dozier, (he was born in 1860) nor could I find anyone who did remember her. However, I have a description of Yeatman from several persons. . . . from Roy Dozier, his sisters Leota Becker, and from Zettie Anderson and from my grandfather, Greenup Dozier. Yateman was about six feet tall and of medium build. He had dark brown hair and beard. His eyes were a bluish grey with gold flecks. His hair and beard were both wavy and only slightly grey at his death. He wore his beard short. He was a very kind man and between Thanksgiving and Christmas he would distribute food and clothing to the poor in the community. After the slaves were freed, he still kept and cared for those who wished to stay with him. My grandfather said he remembered at least two women and three men and several children stayed with him.

Generation 2 (con't)

"After the death of Yeatman's wife, Susan, his sister Susan came to live with him. My grandfather and his brothers remembered her as "Aunt Sukey". Yeatman was a very wealthy man but a combination of the Civil War and a generous heart depleted his finances before his death. He was never reimbursed for the crops and livestock confiscated during the Civil War. He was accused of being a Southern sympathizer so was never given any papers to show the amount taken from him. "The last few years of his life were spent with his granddaughter, Elizabeth Ann Hougham and his grandson, John Dozier and his wife."

SOME FAMILY HISTORY AS TOLD BY EARL DOZIER, A GRANDSON OF GREENUP & MARY ELIZABETH (REIDEL) DOZIER.

Ephraim Moberly Dozier, the son of Yeatman and Susan (Moberly) Dozier, was born in Kentucky in the county of Madison, sometime in the early 1830's. He married Hulda Benton about the year 1855. Hulda was the daughter of James and Ann (White) Benton.

There is some very interesting history about Ann White. She was the only survivor of an Indian massacre. The rest of her family were wiped out and scalped. This was about the time that Abraham Lincoln's grandfather was killed. Earl Dozier found a book "People Orphaned by Indians in Early Kentucky" and that substantiated the story about Ann. She was given as a ward to Sep Sappington, who reared her. Sebastian Sappington was listed as a resident of Madison County, Ky.

Generation 3 (con't)

Hilda Benton had one sister, Julia and two brothers, Hiram and Boland. After the early death of Hulda, the daughter, Elizabeth, in about 1866, went to live with her Aunt Elizabeth (Dozier) Quinn near Bloomington, Ill. Some of the boys stayed with Yeatman and Curtis lived with his Uncles, Hiram and Boland. Later on, John went to Illinois, married, and spent the rest of his life there. James Benton Dozier also made the move to Illinois where he married and in about 1908, he moved his wife and family to a farm, near Grand Junction, Greene County, Iowa where he lived until his retirement. Greenup spent some time with Uncle James Dozier in Kansas City before going to Illinois where he also married and settled down. Curtis Benton Dozier married and remained in Kentucky his entire life.

Earl also gave some descriptions of Hulda and Ephraim. Hulda was a rather tall woman with red hair and brown eyes. Ephraim was a tall, slender man, well over six feet tall. His dark brown hair was straight, and he never wore a beard. He was a quiet man with never much to say. He liked to fish and hunt and was a very good gunman.

Notes for John Richard Dozier:

Evelyn Million Parks said that John Dozier fathered an illegitimate son, but she could not remember the name of the child. She knew about it because she found a rejected submission to a true confessions magazine written by her mother, George Anne Christopher Million (a grand niece of John Richard Dozier). Later Evelyn taught one of the illegitimate son's children at Newby School in the late 1930s.

In his will, John Richard Dozier left a portion of his estate to Frank Hendricks. The 1910 Census shows a Frankie Hendrix, 9, living at Valley View with Curtis, 34, Emma, 23, and Martin, 4. In 1930 a Frank Hendrix, age 29, is living near Newby with wife Della, 24, and children Helen, 9, and Leonard, 7. Kentucky birth records show a third child, Willie R., born in 1932.

Until last year, that's all I knew. Then I discovered -- via Ancestry.com -- a tree of a Frank Dozier Hendrix, naming John Richard Dozier as his father. Emily Rhodus was the mother; she later married Curtis Hendrix, a first cousin of John Dozier. The child in Evelyn's room was Willie. The family moved to Indiana about 1940.

Albert H. Dozier left home when he was somewhere around eighteen years of age and traveled to Illinois. While there, he worked for his father's brother, Greenup Dozier, and I have been told that he also attended a trade school. A few years later he journeyed to Iowa where he met and married Ora M. Dozier. Albert farmed in Greene County until 1929 when he moved his family in to the town of Jefferson, Iowa where he was employed by the Highway Commission. He spent the greater part of 1943 in Alaska helping build the Alcan Highway. He had an ear for music and loved to tuck his violin under his chin and play while Ora would play the piano. Albert and Ora are buried at the Jefferson Cemetery, Jefferson, Ia..

There is a story about the birth certificate on the next page, It explains the process the folks in Kentucky had to go through in order to get the birth certificate for Albert so he could go to Alaska to work on the highway. An April 25, 1943 letter from Zettie (sister of Albert), to Ora Dozier, asks if Albert had received his birth certificate and says, "Uncle Jim Stivers signed it and brought it down to the Drowning Creek Bridge and got Logan Alexander to bring it up to us on Sunday March 14th and Mary Earl took it to Waco on Monday morning and got Mr. Blanton to sign it and mail it to Louisville from there."

He was born near Shirley, Illinois May 22, 1889, At four years the family moved from the little town called Barnes to Holder, Ill. a distance of about eight miles.

They moved in a steel-tired farm wagon. They lived near Holder for five years, then moved to a farm west of Shirley and lived there eleven years.

They lived with Jay's parents for a few years. When the parents bought a farm and moved near Fossiland, they stayed and rented the 400 acre farm. Evan and Opal were born here. When this farm was sold, they moved into Gibson City and lived there for two years. Everett was born while they lived here.

In 1921 they bought 80 acres from Hattie's dad and lived there for 19 years. The rest of their children were born here. They farmed and also raised pure-bred Percheron horses and had a pure-bred Percheron stallion.

CURTIS BENTON & ALICE (STIVERS) DOZIER HISTORY

I have never known very much about the lives of Curtis Benton Dozier and Alice (Stivers) Doz ier but will write what I can about them.

Curtis' mother, Hulda (Benton) Dozie r, died when he was about three years old and the story goes that the sister, E lizabeth, tried to keep the home together for a time. It is said that Curtis m ade his home with Hiram and Boland Benton, the brothers of his mother, Hulda. Curtis was a farmer and someone told me that he was also a watch-maker.

Curtis is buried in an old cemetery which is located within a two to three mile area of the house in which the family lived. Also buried in this cemetery are Charles and Zettie (Dozier) Anderson. We visited this cemetery in the early 1980's, also the cemetery in Waco where Alice (Stivers) Dozier, Mary (Dozier) Wheeler and Mattie (Dozier) Wilson are buried.

Alice (Stivers) Dozier was born in Lee County, Virginia. Her mother was Martha (Pennington), and her father Scott Stivers. Scott died as a result of an accident caused by a team of horses running off. He is buried at Athens, Fayette County, Ky. The Pennington family came to Kentucky from Pennington Gap, Virginia. The town of Pennington Gap is named after the Pennington family. The Stivers family moved to Kentucky when Alice was about eight years of age.

I don't know when Curtis and Alice moved into the town of Irvine, Ky. but wonder if it was after the death of Curtis. Alice was buried at the Flatwood Cemetery in Waco probably because at the time of her death in April, the country roads which led to the cemetery where Curtis was buried, were so muddy they were impossible to drive through.

While there, he worked for his father's brother, Greenup Dozier, and I have been told that he also attended a trade school. A few years later he journeyed to Iowa where he met and married Ora M. Dozier. Albert farmed in Greene County until 1929 when he moved his family in to the town of Jefferson, Iowa where he was employed by the Highway Commission. He spent the greater part of 1943 in Alaska helping build the Alcan Highway. He had an ear for music and loved to tuck his violin under his chin and play while Ora would play the piano. Albert and Ora are buried at the Jefferson Cemetery, Jefferson, Ia..

There is a story about the birth certificate on the next page, It explains the process the folks in Kentucky had to go through in order to get the birth certificate for Albert so he could go to Alaska to work on the highway. An April 25, 1943 letter from Zettie (sister of Albert), to Ora Dozier, asks if Albert had received his birth certificate and says, "Uncle Jim Stivers signed it and brought it down to the Drowning Creek Bridge and got Logan Alexander to bring it up to us on Sunday March 14th and Mary Earl took it to Waco on Monday morning and got Mr. Blanton to sign it and mail it to Louisville from there."
